FALL DEFIES SENATE PROBE OF OIL LEASE

FEARS TO INCRIMINATE HIMSELF IF HE ANSWERS

FORMER SECRETARY IS UNDER PRISON THREAT

Indictment by Federal Guard Jury Asked Unless Testimony Is Given.—Authority of Senate Committee Is Questioned.

Washington. — Senator Walsh of Montana will try to send Albert B. Fall to jail unless Fall agrees to tell the senate public lands committee the full story of the naval oil reserve leases.

Walsh flung this challenge to Fall after the former secretary of the interior had flatly refused to answer any questions before the committee when he appeared in answer to a subpoena.

Fall defied the committee on two grounds:

1—That the senate resolution under which the committee is conducting the investigation was passed at the last session of congress and that the committee's authority expired when that congress ended.

2—That the senate already has passed a resolution demanding court action, both civil and criminal, and that therefore any testimony now given the committee might tend to incriminate him.

Senator Walsh, legal expert, who has led the inquiry, does not consider the second contention of sufficient seriousness to be answered.

The plan agreed upon is to call Fall back before the committee—after the senate has passed the continuing power resolution—and again demand that he answer.

If Fall presists in his refusal, and his attorneys say he will, the committee then has two courses open to compel him.

"The committee then can fine him and send him to jail or report the matter to the senate and have the federal grand jury indict him," Walsh said. "In either case Fall would go to jail until he could obtain a writ of habeas corpus."

SAN DIEGO MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER OF SCHICK

San Diego.—E. Drew Clark, arrested last October, has been formally charged with the murder of George E. Schick, wealthy realty man who disappeared last April. Immediately after, Clark filed a power of attorney in the name of Schick and disposed of some of Schick's property. Shortly thereafter, he and Mrs. Schick purchased a home at El Cajon, where the two were living last October when arrested under forgery charges. Mrs. Margaret Clark, wife of Clark, was also arrested under the same charge. Both have been since confined in the county jail awaiting trial. Mrs. Schick was released under heavy bail.

Filing of the murder charge, which was sworn to by J. H. Berry, deputy sheriff, resulted from evidence which has come into possession of C. G. Selleck, assistant district attorney. The nature of this new evidence is being withheld.

EPISCOPALIANS INDORSE BOK INTERNATIONAL PEACE PLAN

San Francisco.—The diocesan convention and house of church women of the Episcopal church, in joint session here, adopted a resolution indorsing the Bok peace plan and took steps looking toward the formation of peace study groups in every community. These groups will study various methods for obtaining international cooperation in bringing about political and industrial concord.

It also indorsed the work of the church league for industrial democracy. The purpose of this is to acquaint the membership of the Episcopal church with the issues involved in industrial disputes and to endeavor to resolve these in the spirit of the social teachings of Jesus Christ.

Narcotics Kill "Nobleman"

San Francisco.—The man who recently startled doctors and nurses at St. Francis hospital when he awoke from a poison-induced stupor and called loudly for his valet, his major domo and his retinue of servants and explained to the amazed people around him that he was an Irish lord on a tour of the world, and that he had fallen afoul a stranger who had given him bad liquor, died from an overdose of narcotics. When the doctors finished checking up they found that their patient was Robert P. Nolan, a poison victim who had been in the St. Francis several times previously.

GREAT BRITAIN AND ITALY OFFER FRIENDSHIP TO RUSSIA

London.—The Labor government of Britain has stretched out the hand of friendship to the government of Russia and granted full de jure recognition of the Soviet regime. British Trade Representative Hodgson, in Moscow under the Anglo-Russian trade agreement, has handed Foreign Minister Tchitcherin a note in which Britain recognizes "the union of socialist republics as the de jure rulers of territories of the old Russian empire, which acknowledge their authority."

Griffis On Way Home

Hamburg.—Corliss Hoover Griffis, released from jail at Mosbach after serving part of his sentence for the attempted kidnaping of Grover Bergdoll, American draft evader, went aboard the steamship Albert Ballin at Cuxhaven, bound for New York. One of the conditions of Griffis' release was that he should leave Germany immediately.

California Income Tax Up

Washington.—Nearly $12,500,000 increase of the income and profits taxes collected by the government in California in 1923, as compared with 1922, when the collections were nearly $77,000,000 is reported by the internal revenue bureau.

Britain May Recognize Obregon

London.—Informal negotiations are in progress between London and Mexico City which are expected to lead to British recognition of the Obregon government.

The Episcopal diocesan convention, in session at San Francisco, adopted a resolution introduced by the Rev. Father Burton, rector of the Church of the Advent, San Francisco, and denominational chaplain of San Quentin penitentiary, condemning capital punishment.

Factory workers of the Paraffine Companies, Inc., plants at Antioch, Emeryville and San Francisco, will hereafter be granted vacations with pay, under an order announced by officials of the concern. The order becomes effective at once and affects 1,000 employes.

Sacramento is to have an automobile show, the first exclusive event of its kind ever to be held in California's capital, the first week in March.

More than 5,000 Los Angeles telephones were put out of service and Long Beach harbor conduits virtually crippled by the explosion of a gas main.

A police raid at Chino six miles southeast of Pomona, netted three 250-gallon copper stills, 8,000 gallons of whisky and 10,000 gallons of corn mash.

The Marysville Merchants association is back of a big Fourth of July celebration. Preparations are to begin early and a great day's program outlined.

Illicit liquor distillers in the McKittrick oil field district near Bakersfield were using a "community still," until the sheriff came along and took it away.

Burglars entered the postoffice at Ojai, millionaire playground near Ventura, blew open the safe and escaped with what was roughly estimated at $5,000.

Three are applicants for the position of postmaster at Winters—Miss Cora Devin and E. W. Fisher. Miss Ora Woods, present postmistress, also seeks reappointment.

Paul H. Davis has been reappointed graduate manager at Stanford University by President Ray L. Wilbur and will serve in that capacity for a period of three years.

There were fifteen candidates for the job of secretary of the Richmond chamber of commerce, which has finished the work of raising $20,000 for its first year's effort.

Surrounded by officers in a lonely cabin near Fresno, Giacino Zero, surrendered and confessed that he killed his son-in-law, Mike Pecci, 28, at the Zero home in Fresno.

The San Jose city council has authorized the preparation of plans and specifications for a reinforced concrete bridge over the Los Gatos creek to cost approximately $50,000.

Hiram Hogoboom, pioneer resident of Woodland and known throughout the western turf as a trainer and owner of fast horses, was married in Sacramento to Mrs. Ella Ripley.

Joseph Sodielek, 31, a native of Missouri, committed suicide by hanging himself with a rope made of strips of a blanket in his cell at the county jail at Bakersfield, where he was held

Dr. Alfred A. Wright, preacher, author, editor and former dean of Connecticut's Wesleyan University, died at his home in Sierra Madre, aged 82. He founded the first Methodist Ministers Relief association in 1878.

Two unmasked bandits who entered the store of William Vollmers at Selta, a small town forty miles north of Redding, held up the proprietor and took $200 from the safe and cash register. They left no trace in the storm that was raging.

Fresno, Kings, Tulare and Monterey counties are prepared to raise and spend $250,000 in grading and graveling a seven per cent road across the Peach Tree grade in the San Benito mountains if the state will take over maintenance of the highway.

Alone and undisguised, a robber held up the West Adams street branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, Los Angeles, and escaped with more than $1,500. The branch had just been established.

Scores of Catholic prelates, including several bishops from western states, are expected to take part in the pontifical mass that will open golden jubilee observances of the Sacred Heart college at St. Mary's cathedral, San Francisco, February 10.

Pair Lost in Snow

Ruth.—Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Silver of Ely, Nevada, are here with relatives recovering from exposure and hunger which nearly resulted in their death while trying to cross over Grizzly mountain, between this place and Alderpoint, Humboldt county. They encountered deep snow before reaching the top of the Grizzly, and were forced to leave the trail, turning down the Mill creek branch of Van Duzen river. They were soon hopelessly lost.

CHINESE NEW YEAR CELEBRATED BY CLUB

Monday afternoon the Country Woman's Club was hostess to the other women organizations of the community who had assisted in the building of the new library. The guests included members of the Cambrian P. T. A., Campbell High School P. T. A., the Home and School Club, the Johnson Avenue Improvement Club, the Moreland Good Will Club, the Pundita Circle and the W. C. T. U.

A short business meeting was held in the Library room while the guests were assembling in the Community room, which the committee had spared no time or effort to transform into a Chinese garden. Curtains of black crepe paper artistically decorated with Chinese writing done in gold and further brightened with realistic red dragon cut-outs, screened the windows and large baskets of bamboo and pussywillows artistically placed gave quite a tea garden effect.

Strings of gay lanterns and other odd shaped ones containing lights, bowls of Chinese lilies, and others containing gold fish, a gong, gay fans of peacock feathers and other oriental decorations enhanced the picturesque effect, as did the gorgeous costumes of several of those assisting.

A delightful entertainment based on the Chinese New Year, was inaugurated with the beating of gongs and an explosion of firecrackers, noise being an inseperable element of this annual celebration.

Mrs. Ralph Hyde read a very interesting description of the ceremonies and observances connected with the celebration of this greatest of Chinese holidays which covers a period of about two weeks.

Mrs. Mildred Berry of Sunnyvale played two Chinese melodies, "The Mysterious Magician" and a "Chinese Dance," graciously responding to an encore with a third number, "Song Birds."

A happy humorous note was added in a reading by Mrs. L. F. Shaw, "The History of Chop Suey and Fan Tan," and how they came to California. Miss Helen Kalas very kindly repeated the group of songs which she had given at a previous meeting, and Miss Anna Schulte, sister of Mrs. Dalvit, who is here from Los Angeles, gave two delightful readings, "Mrs. Brickenhofer's Troubles," in German dialect, and "Out Sleighing With Sofia."

At the invitation of the President, Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, Mrs. E. J. Wales, president of the San Francisco district of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, comprising fourteen counties, was present and spoke briefly of the principle aims of the federated clubs at this time. The first of these is the eradiction of illiteracy thruout the nation. There are 5,000,000 adults in our country, a goodly percentage native born, who can neither read nor write in any language. 1930 has been set as the goal when this condition shall have been eradicated.

The second problem is that of narcotics, the chief remedy for which it seems must come thru education of the younger generations and the third is one in which the clubs are always vitally interested—child welfare. Just now interest is centered on the proposed constitutional amendment dealing with child labor.

A general social time followed the conclusion of the program, during which visiting and mah jongg held sway, while tea and a variety of Chinese wafers and candy was served.

The very efficient committee in charge were Mrs. L. S. Miller, Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, Mrs. G. C. Archibald, Mrs. A. I. Cramer, and Mrs. Geo. Husted.

Hon. Frank H. Benson Speaks To Class

It was a pleasing sight when the graduating class marched into the limelight Friday evening for its last formal appearance in the new school.

A very noticeable and commendable fact was that the girls had chosen to dress uniformly rather than vie in dress display. They wore white middies with sailor kerchief and black skirts.

Mr. James T. Allen, class teacher, acted as chairman of the evening.

Mr. Ernest Cuthbertson made a few pointed remarks to the class on their work in the class room. The thoroughness of their education will tell when they are out in the world. The moral courage to stand for the right is the highest test of character. Be faithful to the right, loyal to the government.

Senator Frank H. Benson, who has always been a most popular politician and friend in Campbell community, was introduced and gave his audience a very good idea of just what kind of "Bridge Builders" the class was expected to develop into. He urged them to build their best whatever their line or wherever they built. They should build for the benefit and progress of mankind. Not only is this school a rich contribution to the district but also to the county and state and pupils can not help but imbibe into their characters some of the beauties of art and architecture which will be a joy to themselves and others thru life.

In the presentation of diplomas, Mr. Allen called his class roll of these members for the last time. The class held a paper drive recently and netted $10 which will be put with a like sum raised by the June class to make a gift to the school. A fine picture of apple blossom time was presented the classroom by one of the boys.

The program as rendered follows:

CLASS SONG

"THIS OLD CLASS OF OUPS"

We've got a longing 'way down in our hearts
For this old class that is drifting apart.
We are the best pals that have ever met,
And though now we part, we'll never forget.

Chorus:

Gee! but we'd give the world to stay by this old school so grand
We can't forget this dear old school, the best one in the land.
Good bye forever, dear teachers and pals. Good bye forever, dear old school (God bless you!)
Gee! but we'd give the world to keep this old class with you!

To-night we come, for the last time, together,
To the spot we have loved in all kinds of weather;
As we know that we part for, perhaps, many years.
Our throats fill with lumps and our eyes fill with tears. Cho.:

We've eaten together, for the last time, our lunch,
And handed out nicknames to all of the bunch:
There's "Ichy" and "Turnips" and "Chicken" and "Cyn,"
And "Elsie," the angel that's made out of tin. Chorus:

Out back of the school, we've cut our last caper;
Tony has made us pick up our last paper.
Good bye, dear old school, we are leaving today,
And our hearts they are heavy at going away.

WATER CONSERVATION

Tuesday evening the meeting of the Orchard City Grange will be given exclusively to the Water Conservation committee, beginning at 8 o'clock. Fred H. Tibbets, water conservation engineer will be present and the committee in charge are anticipating a very important session. This is an open meeting and a cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in the community welfare and progress. E. K. Clendening is expecting a large attendance of co-workers in the cause. Such a project must come sooner or later and will insure more prosperity and less worry to all.

HONOR EX-PRESIDENT

Campbell business houses observed the passing of our great statesman and war president by flying their flags at half mast. The postoffice flag will remain draped for thirty days.

As has been stated, no war president of the United States, exerted so great an influence thruout the world and many of his favorite expressions have made a lasting impression on his countrymen.

"Blessed are the peacemakers" and Woodrow Wilson was a leader among the workers for world peace.

First American Money Made of Clam Shells

The proprietor of "a ranch on Cape Cod" has found traces of a trading station established at Bourne, or Manement, in the year of the Pilgrims, 1627. At this trading post American money was first invented as a device for making trade more convenient. This post was established for trade between the Pilgrims on one side and the Indians and the Dutch New Yorkers on the other.

In the course of time they invented wampum, which was to have a stable, fixed value at all times. Wampum was a piece of quahog (clam) shell cut into a certain shape and well polished. One piece of quahog shell represented a certain fixed value.—Detroit News.

"Pop" Harris, 71, Stanford campus bootblack, was a slave on a North Carolina plantation in the days before the Civil war. Now he has over 160 living relatives in that state. He is the father of thirteen children, the granddaddy to fourteen and great grandfather to an even dozen.

A convention booklet telling why Sacramento should be selected as a convention city and giving all detailed information as to the qualifications of California's capital as a convention point, will be broadcast throughout the United States by the chamber of commerce publicity committee.

In the darkness of a border jail, J. E. Donaldson of Palms, Cal., strangled to death Edward Hart of Los Angeles, mistaking his friend for another inmate. Donaldson became infuriated at alleged unpatriotic utterances of a third cell inmate and a fight ensued, the jailer said. Later in the night Donaldson made the attack.

The Pasadena city planning commission has invited ten architects in California to submit plans for the group of civic buildings to be erected soon. Designs for the proposed city hall, municipal auditorium and public library, for which bonds were recently voted, must be submitted to the board on or before February 15.

Domingo Archbeck, 110 years old and who has lived in San Louis Obispo since 1820, recently walked to Los Angeles in search of his 90-year-old son, Francisco Archbeck. Los Angeles is so changed since the last time that the "young" Archbeck visited it, that he got lost. He was given lodging at the University jail.

WONDERS OF THE RADIO TO COME

The sales of radio equipment in this country will amount to $150,000,000 this year and within five years to $500,000,000, according to statement by David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America. He forsees in the near future broadcasting from great central stations so connected that it will be possible to reach 50,000,000 people.

These superpower stations, he says, would cost $5,000,000 a year to maintain and he proposes that the money be raised by a tax of one per cent on the sales of radio apparatus. He believes that the people will pay such a tax gladly for the opportunity to listen to the world's best talent in grand opera and addresses by famous men including educational features of established value.

The only obstacle in the way present, Mr. Sarnoff says, is the cost of maintenance. He calculates that the tax of one per cent on sales of equipment would yield $5,000,000.

The scheme opens up great possibilities in broadcasting. Reaching 50,000,000 persons at once through the air would have been considered something outside of human accomplishment only a few years ago. Today it can easily be understood as a near probability.

CONSTRUCTIVE TIMBER PROGRAM

Lumber operators in California pine are fully alive to the great importance of fire protection in securing a second growth. About 90 per cent of the owners now have cooperative agreements with the Forest Service for the protection of their timber lands. This or other systematic protection either covers or is being rapidly extended to their cut-over lands. Cooperation is under way with the State Board of Forestry in adopting plans for the fire protection of operating areas on the part of almost all owners. The first and most important step is therefore well under way. Many owners are seriously considering the possibility of producing a second crop as a profitable private venture. They are working on the problem of securing a fair taxation system for reforestation lands and their representatives are cooperating in a study of logging methods in relation to future young growth. A few operators cutting private lands embraced within National Forest working circles are taking further steps than fire protection to provide for a second crop.

OATH OF ATHENS

To Which the Greeks of Athens Subscribed When it Became Greatest City in the World.

We will never bring disgrace to this, our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor even desert our suffering comrades in the ranks; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city's laws, and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or to set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty. Thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this city, not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

DON'T GET INTO THE SUCKER LIST

The beginning of the new year marks the open season on the unsuspecting public for the professional stock jobber and promoter.

Glaring promises of fabulous returns from a small investment will be held out and the "sucker-list" will grow proportionately.

About the only way the uninitiated may be saved from distressing investments is to first consult some reliable banker or responsible investment concern.

An Outstanding Example.—The Oakland Tribune, which usually is accurate in its knowledge of history, went rather amiss the other day when it said that "Nowhere, save in Mexico and Central America, have the executive heads of republics been soldiers. One looks to history and the old world, the days of warring kings for the precedent." The Tribune forgets that George Washington was one of America's greatest presidents and soldiers.

The Woman's Guild of the Congregational church will hold a Food Sale at Gilson's market on Saturday, February 16. Don't forget the date.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ainsley moved into the W. D. Sturtevant house on Johnson Avenue, Friday, and are very comfortably situated in their new home.

The Campbell Library lot is being leveled and filled preparatory to seeding. This work has been waiting for the rains in order to be done more easily.

Merlin and Elver Bohnett left Saturday for a motor vacation trip to northern California and Oregon points. They expect to return Tuesday. There are already rumors of divorce proceedings at the bungalow on Winchester road.

John Nipper of the Whitman Store force, is able to be down town again after an illness of six week or more. Mr. Nipper met with a supposedly minor injury, while at work in the store but from which complications arose and he had a rather serious time.

P.T.A. WILL FEED CROWDS FEB. 22

The Grammar school P. T. A. had a very successful meeting Tuesday afternoon with a large attendance, much business being attended to. It was decided that the club serve the dinner on Old Settlers Day and a committee was appointed. It is a very able one and many goo dthings will be served. We want all to come and take their dinner with us in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Osborne, chairman of the evening's entertainment on Old Settlers' Day, February 22, reported a play well in hand and that the first practice would be on Wednesday.

The Elson Art Exhibit which is to take place from March 6 to 8, has aroused much enthusiasm among the club members. Many different committees were assigned to different duties.

Several subscriptions for donations of pictures have been promised and we are hoping many more may follow from the different orders and clubs.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Keesling, who had secured Miss Carmichael to talk on Americanization which was very interesting. Mrs. Keesling then put on a demonstration of how she teaches beginners in her Americanization class. After the program, the meeting adjourned and all went to the cafeteria where refreshments were served.

SOL JACOBS PASSED AWAY THURSDAY

Even when the Grim Reaper has been hovering in the offing for some time, the last summons that calls a soul from this world over yonder, is always more or less of a shock, and so the report of the death of Sol Jacobs on last Thursday was to this community. Mr. Jacobs had been suffering for months from throat trouble, for which he had submitted to several operations that brought temporary relief but few knew that the end was so near.

Mr. Jacobs had been the resident director of the Campbell branch of the California Canneries Co. of San Francisco, and under his management the business had grown and prospered. He was well liked by the various subordinate superintendents and the help generally, and he was always very genial with his fellowtownsmen, and interested in all movements for the benefit and improvement of Campbell.

Mr. Jacobs was a native of San Francisco, aged fifty years, and is survived by several brothers and sisters, Isidor, Max and Julins Jacobs, Mrs. Mattie Frey, Mrs. Lillie Rosendorn, Mrs. Hattie Kronberg, and Mrs. Fannie Levitt, all of whom have visited at different times in Campbell. He also leaves a widow, Mary E. Jacobs, a bride of but two months past.

Mr. Jacobs was a member of several fraternal organizations and the B. P. O. E. Lodge of San Jose was in charge of the funeral services held Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the new chapel of Hocking & Williams, while Doric Lodge No. 216 F. & A. M. conducted the services at the Chapel of Mount Olivet Cemetery at 1 o'clock. Deceased was also a member of the American Legion having served over seas with the Canadian forces.

This community has lost a good citizen, and friends unite in extending sympathy to the sorrowing relatives.

SCHOOL NOTES

Pupils who had done satisfactory work throughout the term were promoted Friday, February 1, and took their places in the next grades the following Monday. It was like the first day of school—getting matters settled. Later new work was started.

The former high eighth won the prize for the highest attendance for the month of January, having a very good attendance. The attendance of the school was reported as being especially good, being better this month than any other month of the term.

The baseball season has started and the different groups are organizing first and second teams.

Very appropriate memorial exercises were held at the grammar school Wednesday, Feb. 6, in memory of ex-president Wilson.

At exactly three o'clock the Boy Scouts, by order from National headquarters, stood at "attention" for one minute and repeated the Scout Oath. They were directed by Scoutmaster Ernest J. Cuthbertson.

The following program was given:

TREAT IN STORE

Sunday morning at the Congregational church a University of California student, Mr. E. Dixon, will be present and speak to us of that wonderful student volunteer convention which was held in Indianapolis this winter. Mr. Dixon was one of 6000 delegates who attended the convention and he will give us an interesting account of this inspiring meeting.

We will also have some special music which will be given by Miss Miriam Burton, one of the faculty of the College of the Pacific.

In the evening at the 5:30 vesper service, we are to have another treat for the people of this community. Dr. Roy Woodhams, who has been a medical missionary in the Belgian Congo in Central Africa for the past six years, will speak to us. He will show pictures which he has collected in that far away land, that will add much to the interesting things he will tell us. Dr. Woodhams is spending a year's furlough in California and we are fortunate to be able to hear him.

The state community property law will not be recognized by the federal government as a means to reach a family income tax total. Instructions to this effect were received at San Francisco from John P. McLaughlin, collector of internal revenue. The ruling is based on attempts of husbands and wives to file separate returns showing one-half of the income received from jointly-owned property. The state law is always pointed to as authority for such procedure.

The Antioch bridge, which will cross the San Joaquin river from Antioch to Sherman island and form the connecting link in the Victory highway, will make it possible for motors from the Sacramento valley to enter the San Francisco bay district without ferrying. The bridge is to be over 3,600 feet long. The plans for the bridge have received war department approval and construction is to go ahead immediately.

Divorces in California are increasing at the rate of 100 per cent every ten years, according to the bureau of vital statistics. On the first day of this year there were 28,299 persons in this state who had ended martial strife by legal separation. This is a jump of 5,194 since 1920. The records also show there are now 190,444 widows in California, as compared with 162,871 three years ago.

The new president of the polytechnic school at San Louis Obispo, replacing Nicholas Ricciardi, recently named commissioner of vocational education, will be made within the next few weeks, according to an announcement by Will C. Wood, who has appointed a committee of fifteen southern Californians to assist him in selecting a man fitted for Ricciardi's place.

The recent London meeting of the Plymouth Consolidated Gold Mines, Ltd., which operates one of the deep Mother Lode mines at Plymouth, approved plans for sinking the main shaft from the 3,400 to the 4,300 level, the initiation of a program of exploration on both the upper and new levels, and the development of the ore bodies which have been lately opened up.

Plans for a lock system in the Sacramento river, which would give Sacramento a nine-foot channel, suitable for larger boats, and a six-mile water front at a cost of $7,000,000, were outlined by O. G. Stanley, principal assistant engineer in the United States engineer's office at San Francisco, before the river problems conference at Sacramento.

The second trial of the defendant members of the Bankers' Mortgage and Discount company, charged with conspiracy to violate the state corporation securities act, will start March 3, before Superior Judge Louis H. Ward at San Francisco. The first trial, after eight weeks, resulted in a disagreement, the jury standing eleven for conviction.

Formation of a highway district embracing an assessed valuation of $12,000,000 in the Coalinga section, Fresno county, and other details necessary for the improvement of the twenty-nine miles of uncompleted road on the route of the Sierras-to-the-Sea highway, lying west of Coalinga, has been agreed.

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

Traffic Handled Without Congestion By Increased Railroad Efficiency

LOADING INDICATES WESTERN PROSPERITY

Cars Loaded in 1923 Would Make Train 8,600 Miles Long; Would Encircle United States

Western shippers loaded 1,050,906 cars of freight on Southern Pacific's Pacific System lines in 1923, an increase of almost 200,000 cars over the loading for 1922, which was 851,942 cars.

The 1923 loading, according to J. H. Dyer, general manager of the company, was the heaviest in the history of the company.

If all the freight cars loaded on the company's Pacific System in 1923 were coupled up with the locomotives necessary to move them and with a proportionate number of cabooses, they would make a train 8,600 miles in length—long enough to extend around the United States from Portland, Oregon, through Chicago, Buffalo, New York, Washington, New Orleans, Los Angeles, San Francisco and back to Portland, with about 400 miles of cars left over.

The figures cited give some idea of the prosperity and productiveness of the western states, for these cars were loaded in the states of Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico. The size of the imaginary train also gives an idea of the enormous task performed by the Southern Pacific Company in handling this traffic, which was moved quickly and efficiently, without congestion or general car shortage.

Southern Pacific, as one of the leading railroad systems of the country, has had a consistently good record in operating efficiency, extending over a period of years, but despite this fact, Southern Pacific's 1923 performance in heavy car loading, in obtaining a high daily mileage of freight cars, and in keeping locomotives and cars in repair, was uniformly better than in previous years.

Campaign Planned

When it became apparent that 1923 would be a year of unusually heavy traffic, the railroads joined in a campaign to speed up transportation. They set definite high standards of operating efficiency as a goal for the individual roads to reach. These standards were: 30 tons of freight per car loaded; 30 miles per car per day; 85 per cent of locomotives in serviceable condition and not requiring heavy repairs by October 1, the start of the season of heaviest traffic; and 95 per cent of freight cars in serviceable condition, by October 1.

Southern Pacific bettered these standards in every instance except in the average carload, and its performance in this respect was a remarkably good one and not to be measured by the goal set for all the railroads, because of Southern Pacific's large tonnage of light loading, perishable products, a full car of which averages about fourteen tons.

The average tonnage per car loaded in 1923 was 27.5 tons which was an increase of seven tenths of a ton over the excellent record made in 1922.

The company made its freight cars travel twelve miles farther each day than the goal set for the railroads as a whole, getting an average daily mileage per car of forty-two miles. In one month, an average of 47.3 miles per car per day was obtained. The average for 1922 was 36.8 miles.

Equipment in Repair

Southern Pacific, during 1923, averaged 88.5 per cent for the number of locomotives in serviceable condition and not needing heavy repairs as compared with a percentage of 86.5 in 1922. In only one month did the company have less than 85 per cent of its locomotives in serviceable condition, the goal set by the railroads as a whole for October 1. In only three months did the company have less than 95 per cent of freight cars in serviceable condition, the national goal by October 1. The average for the year was 95.4 per cent as compared with 93.65 per cent in 1922.

Another improvement in performance was in the gross locomotive load, which averaged 3 per cent better in 1923 than in 1922. This means that each locomotive was made to haul a heavier load.

While there was a shortage of refrigerator cars during the peak of the grape shipping season, it did not approach in extent the shortage of 1922 and did not appear until a greater tonnage of grapes had been shipped up to that time than in any previous year.

The same effort for increased efficiency is being made in 1924, according to Southern Pacific officials, and improvements and additions are being steadily made over the system. More equipment, including new locomotives and cars of the finest design, are being received, and more are being ordered.
